

Redmond Cycling Club (RCC) presents...

MAZAMA 2011

Saturday and Sunday, June 25-26, 2011

This year's annual Mazama Ride will be Saturday and Sunday, June 25th & 26th, 2011.. As usual, the ride starts in Marblemount on Saturday. We cycle 75-ish miles on the North Cascades Highway, climbing a total of 6800 feet over Rainy and Washington Passes, into the gorgeous Methow valley, ending our day at the Mazama Country Inn. We stay overnight at the Mazama Country Inn and then head back Sunday morning (4800 feet of climbing on the way back).

The cost is $140 ($135 for current RCC members). Your registration fee covers sag support, water along the course, on-route lunches Saturday and Sunday, lodging Saturday night at Mazama Country Inn, a snack and beverages on Saturday afternoon, family-style dinner Saturday evening, and buffet-style breakfast Sunday morning. We carry your bags, so all you have to do is ride!

VEGETARIAN? Yes <input type="checkbox"/>	We have vegetarian selections available for all meals. For Saturday-night dinner, lacto-vegetarian lasagna will be available for vegetarians. If you are vegan, you'll need to make special arrangements with Mazama Country Inn, probably at extra cost. Contact Don or Mimi Boothby for assistance making these arrangements (contact information below).

Lodging at Mazama Country Inn is "cozy:" One person per single or full bed; two people per queen or king bed; 2-4 people per room. No single rooms are available. When making room/bed assignments, I'll make every effort to accommodate your roommate/bedmate requests, given the room and bed configurations. Mazama Country Inn has several roll-out beds and futons that we have used in the past for folks who don't want to share a bed with someone else. DUE TO SPACE CONSTRAINTS IT IS SOMETIMES NECESSARY TO SHARE A BED.

ROOMMATE REQUEST	Please list the names of the people you'd like to share a room with.

REGISTRATION FEES (NO refunds, but we will help you sell your entry to someone on the Wait List)
